

Friends of Scotchman Peaks Wilderness

Give Thanks for the Wild!

Tales, Tunes, and Photos from 26,000 Miles of Wilderness Walking

Meet the man who has covered North America by boot, and share his passion for the wild in “Give Thanks for the Wild!” a multimedia show/concert, to be held Saturday November 24th at the Panida Theater in Sandpoint. Give Thanks For the Wild celebrates America’s rich wilderness heritage through the stunning photography and live wilderness inspired music of Walkin’ Jim Stoltz.

The Friends of Scotchman Peaks Wilderness presents this rare opportunity to meet America’s one-of-a-kind wilderness troubadour. Walkin’ Jim Stoltz has trekked from coast to coast, Mexico to Canada (3 times), Yellowstone to the Yukon, from high in the Arctic to deep in the Utah canyons. All those years in the wild places and over 26,000 miles of walking have given him a great love for wilderness which Walkin’ Jim will share in “Give Thanks for the Wild!” Walkin’ Jim sings in a deep bass voice, plays guitar, and tells stories about his travels while projecting spectacular images of the wilderness he has photographed on his travels.

Mark you calendars for Sat November 24th. Doors open at 6:00pm, show starts at 7:00pm. Tickets are only $10 in advance, $12 at the door. Tickets are available in Sandpoint at Eichardts, F.C. Weskills, Monarch Mountain Coffee and the Outdoor Experience; In Trout Creek at the Huckleberry Thicket.

Woody Guthrie meets Ansel Adams in Walkin’ Jim’s “Give Thanks for the Wild!” performance. The chance to experience his show is not to be missed. Walkin’ Jim’s recent book, “Walking With the Wild Wind,” and recorded CDs of his music will be available at the show. More information about him can be found at www.walkinjim.com.

Walkin’ Jim’s only local appearance is sponsored by the Friends of Scotchman Peaks Wilderness.
